

Hathaway Solutions - Project Profile

Axxis Biometrics Web Site:

Hathaway Solutions was selected to develop the Axxis Biometrics web site and online store. The store offers a range of biometric products including door locks and safes. Using a customized shopping cart and checkout application, Axxis' customers can securely and efficiently purchase products over the Internet. Axxis Biometrics' staff has complete control of the catalog through a customized administrative panel which allows them to easily manage product information such as pricing and availability. The interface also provides content management features allowing easy modification of various content blocks on the website. Hathaway Solutions also provides a secure, dedicated hosting environment for the Axxis Biometrics web site.
